Texto completo:

Dude there's this couple that's getting divorce and they have 600 million dollars worth of art. It is the biggest single art collection that's ever going up for auction. And there's one painting that they have on the wall that is a 2007 painting, by some person I've never heard of, obviously I don't know much about modern art in particular, and it's worth I think, 40 to 60 million dollars.
